CORNING - PAINTED POST AREA WEST HIGH SCHOOL
PAINTED POST, NEW YORK

This book is a mirror of your life at West High; in its reflection will be seen your rousing pep assemblies, class parties, the Senior Play, the newly established East-West rivalry, student-teacher relationships, and all the many-faceted sides of life at West High.

The Skjold has a singular purpose—to exemplify Corning-Painted Post West High School's unification of spirit and newly formed traditions. Although our associations have been short, our memories will be long lasting.

In reading and looking at your 1964 Skjold remember that the West High Spirit will be there. Always be proud that you had a part in establishing it—as its first student body.

Mr. Regal K. Whitcomb

Dedication

We the staff of the 1964 Skjold dedicate this our first volume to our principal, Mr. Regal K. Whitcomb, in deep appreciation for his wisdom, foresight, and paternal understanding and affection. These qualities have endeared him to the countless number of students he has guided over the years.

From Northside . . .

Regal K. Whitcomb was born in Andover, New York and graduated from the Belmont High School in 1921. Four years later he received a Bachelor of Science degree from Hobart College and still later a Masters in Education from Cornell University. Prior to his coming to Northside High School in 1930 as an instructor in history, Mr. Whitcomb had five years experience with the Firestone Rubber Company. While at Northside Mr. Whitcomb entered the field of guidance and then succeeded Mr. Hugh W. Gregg as the last of the distinguished principals of Northside High School.

Always an outstanding educator, Mr. Whitcomb has long been active in community and church affairs. He is a member of the National Education Association, The Secondary Principals Association, The Rotary Club, and has served as an elder of The First Presbyterian Church of Corning.

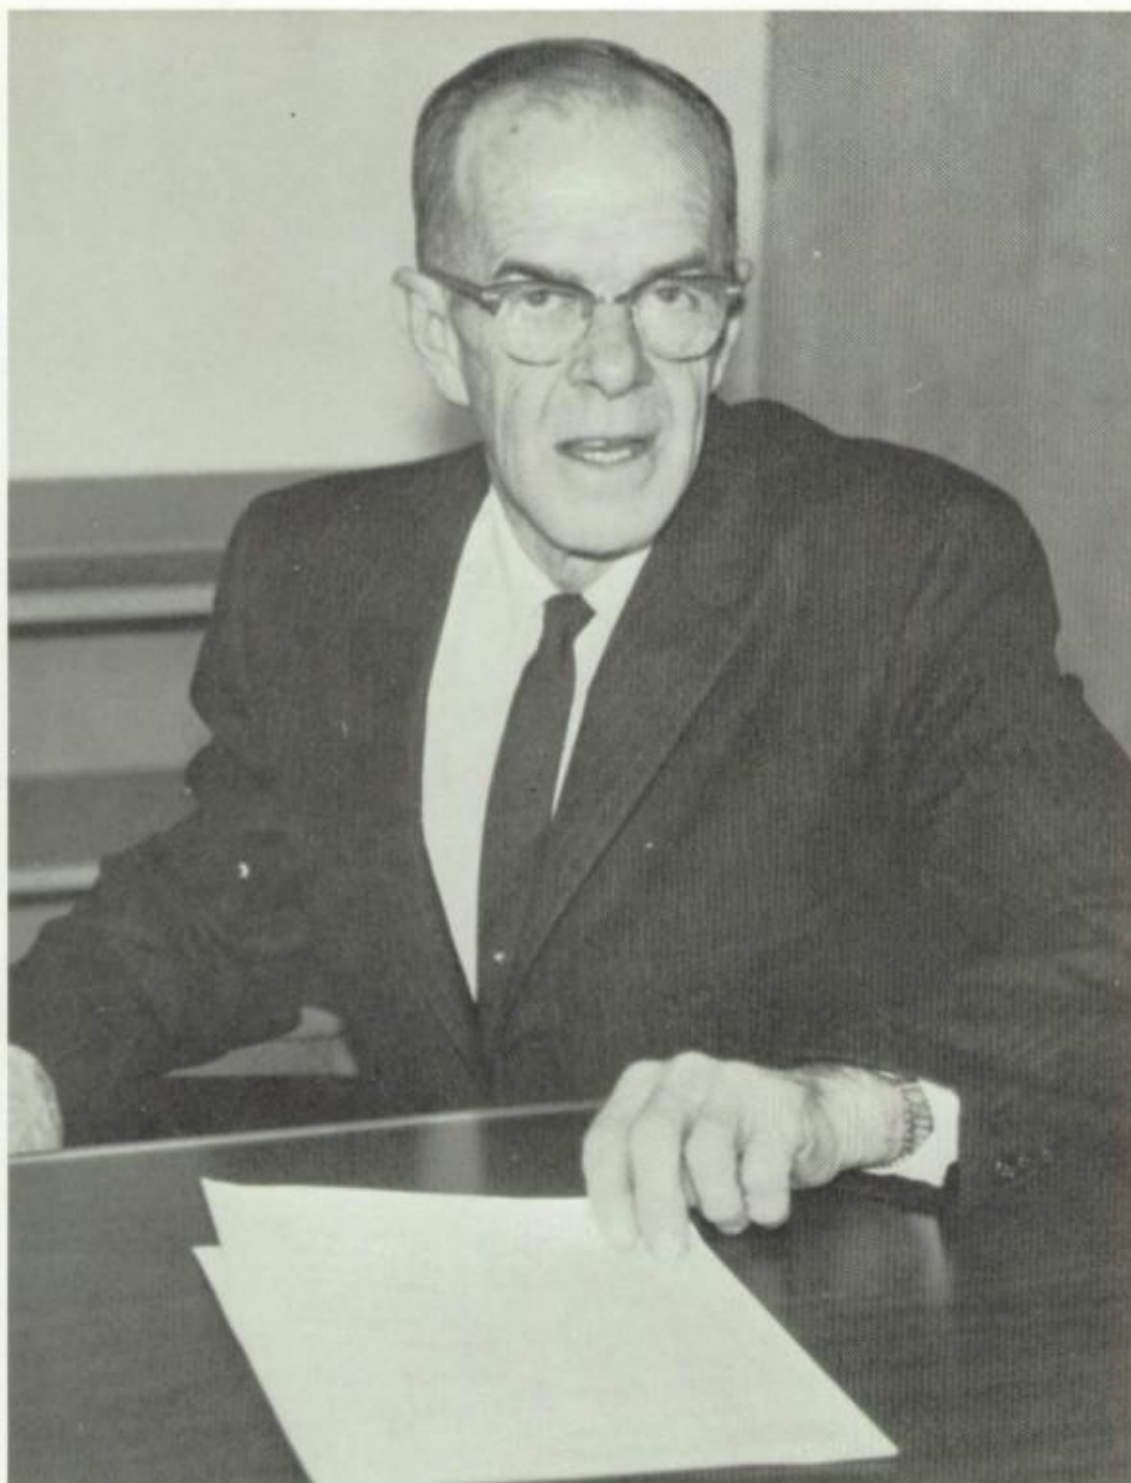

Only recently Mr. Whitcomb has added another laurel to his years of dedicated service as the first principal of the Corning-Painted Post West High School.

It is the wish of the student body and staff at West High that Mr. Whitcomb's future will be filled with much joy, good health, and happy memories.

Northside High School will long be etched in Mr. Whitcomb's memory, but he has brought to West his zest for living, his genuine concern for his colleagues, and his unanswerable devotion to his pupils.

. . . to West High

West High's First Principal- Mr. Whitcomb

MR. REGAL K. WHITCOMB

During the morning of September 4, 1963 students and faculty members from three high schools located in Painted Post and Corning came together in the auditorium of a partially completed building named the Corning-Painted Post West High School, a building carefully planned and designed to function as a comprehensive senior high school in which a program of studies and activities for all students enrolled could be developed.

The events occurring in the days following this meeting have proven beyond doubt that those assembled recognized and accepted the challenge confronting them. Education in a democracy must provide an opportunity for all students to become effective citizens in a world community. The chance to develop each individual's particular abilities is a second necessity. All of the structural features incorporated in the new building such as science and language laboratories, the library, the physical education facilities, the shops, the classrooms, home economics, music, art, guidance and audio-visual facilities, contain special features in which such a program could become a reality.

Nine months have transpired between the September meeting in the auditorium and the publishing of the first edition of the SKJOLD. The editorial staff of a school annual creates in picture and print a record of events comprising a school year. The 1964 SKJOLD will also serve to record the degree of success attained by the students and faculty at West High School in discharging the responsibility of developing a program in keeping with the possibilities offered by the building.

It is always difficult to catch the spirit and pride surrounding a given accomplishment. It remains for those who read this yearbook to judge how effectively its creators have portrayed West High School during the formative first year. As one who has taken tremendous pride in the many achievements by students and faculty both curricular and extra-curricular, I predict that the SKJOLD will be a crowning achievement in a year-long series of smashing successes.

Regal K. Whitcomb
Principal

On September 4, 1963, Corning-Painted Post Area School District opened two new high schools for grades 10-12. This ended the years of double sessions for grades 7-9. The four years of this era will not seem long in the history of this school district, but in the education of these grade 7-9 pupils, it was a long period of time. Our opening here at West High School was not without its difficulties in the physical plant. These were removed gradually.

We are able to concentrate our maximum effort on the preparation of all the young women and men who reside in our geographical area to live creative, satisfying and socially useful lives. All youth whose mental, emotional, physical, moral and social maturity is sufficient to allow them to profit from organized educational experiences are to be served by this school. Their responsibility begins when the demonstrated behavior of a pupil is such that he can join with other students under the guidance of qualified professional teachers. Their responsibility terminates when: (1) the demonstrated behavior of any youth is such that he can no longer profit from association with other students in an instructional program; (2) or when this behavior indicates that he has achieved the maximum development of his potential which can be accomplished by the staff and the physical resources of the school program.

Each student of West High School has been placed in the school program in the learning situation which will best prepare him to fulfill the next level of objectives which have been set for him. He will be moved to other parts of the program when, in the judgment of the professional staff, he will gain greater assistance in his development from the new situation. We expect each of our students to attain a level of proficiency commensurate with his own individual abilities. Our school staff will develop the methods, procedures, courses of study, and activities best suited to assisting each student attain the desired objectives at all levels of instruction.

Finally, in fulfilling its responsibility to the community, West High School expects the student and his parents to assume certain obligations at the same time. Education is not something that is done for the student or to the student. Education results from the student himself acting to develop his own potentials. The school assists this with a dedicated and competent teaching staff, a curriculum of many and varied learning experiences and an atmosphere of respect for learning. In the final analysis, the educative process depends upon the student himself. If he is to profit from the opportunities which this school offers, he must dedicate his best efforts to the difficult and sometimes discouraging task of perfecting and disciplining his mind. To accomplish this task, West High School, the student and his parents must function as a cooperative and coordinated team. The end result of this endeavor is to equip each of our students to take his place as a contributing member of our American democratic society.

School Personnel Realize Dream

Mr. Whitcomb presides at the dedication of West High.

DR. GORDON A. WHEATON, Superintendent of Schools

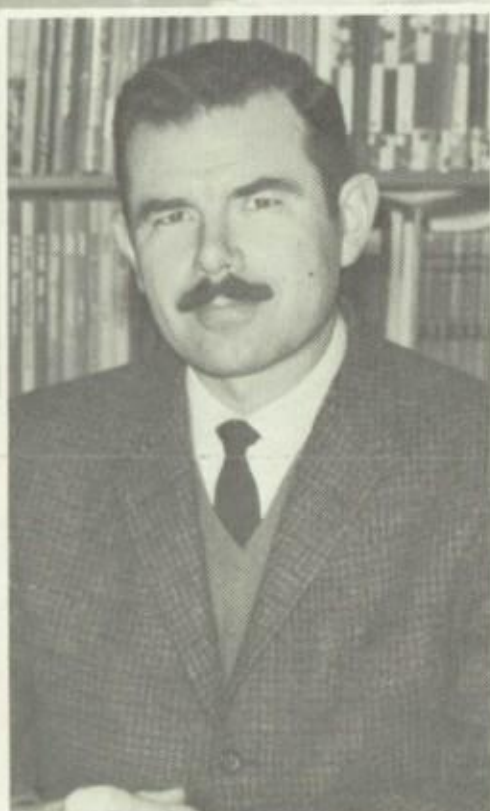

We the seniors of West High School, comprise the first graduating class from this new building.

Credit for the opening of West High is largely due to those distinguished men and women who serve as our Board of Education.

We salute this board for their part on providing us with the efficient, up-to-date, educational facilities available here at Corning-Painted Post West High.

DR. ROBERT GROGAN, Assistant Superintendent of Schools

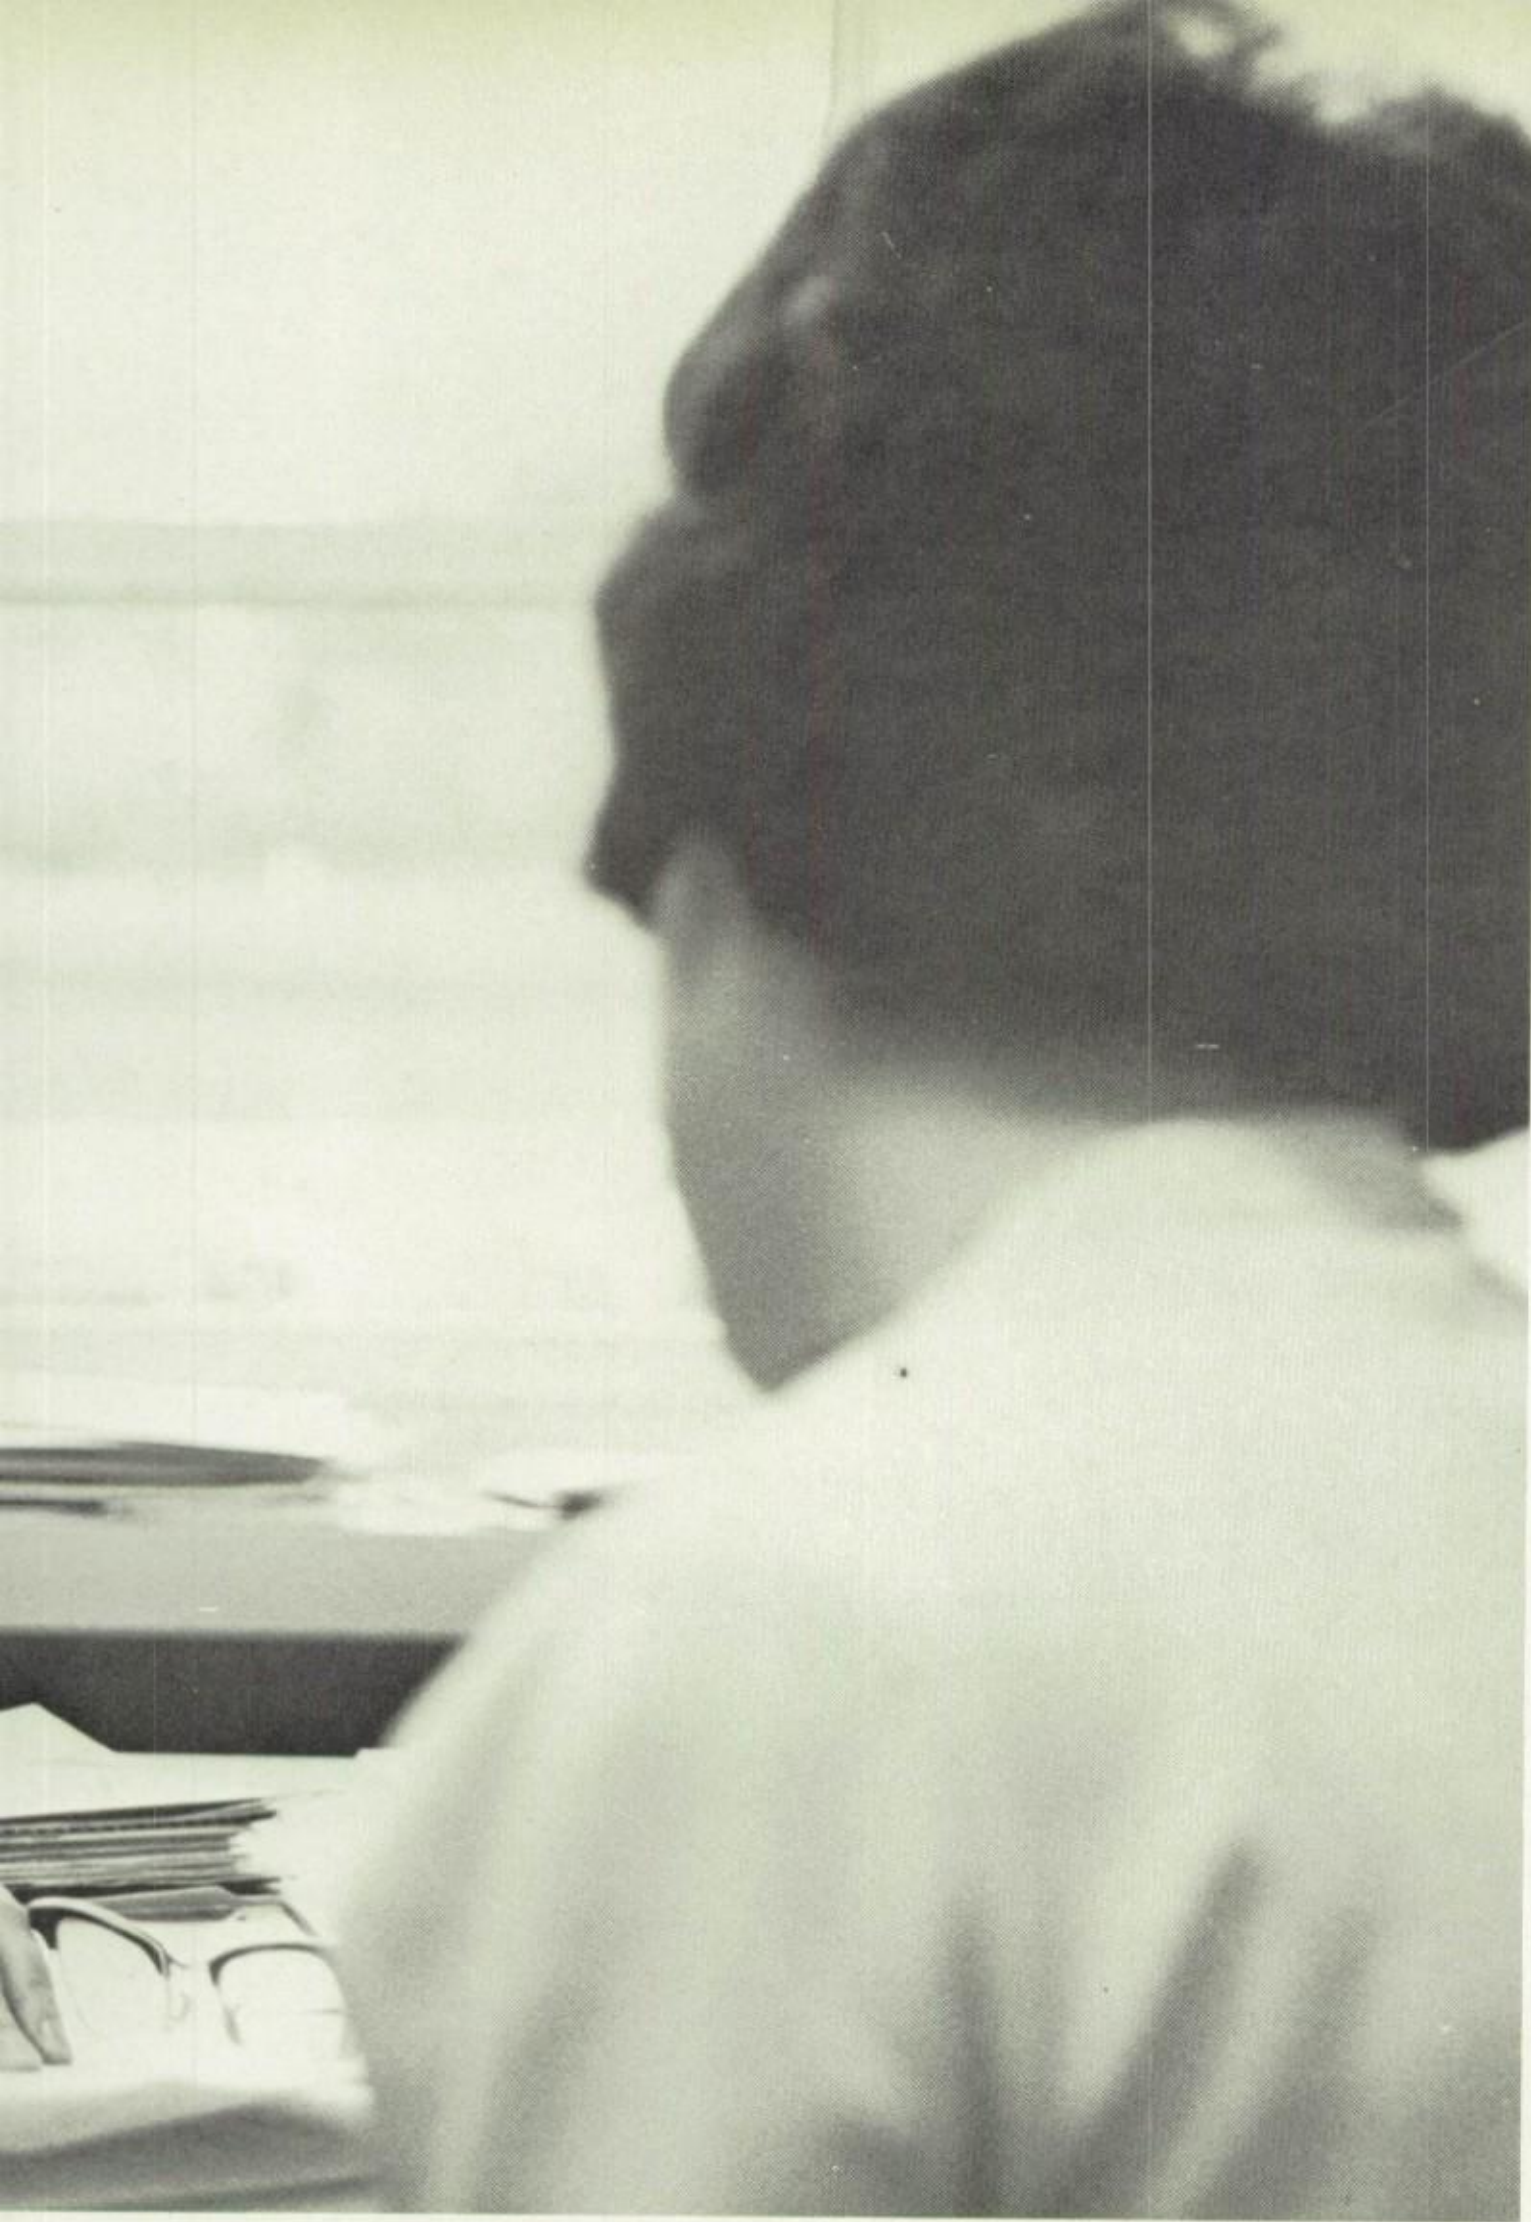

DR. RICHARD McDONALD, Assistant Superintendent of Schools

MR. REXFORD BROOKS, Assistant Superintendent of Schools for Business

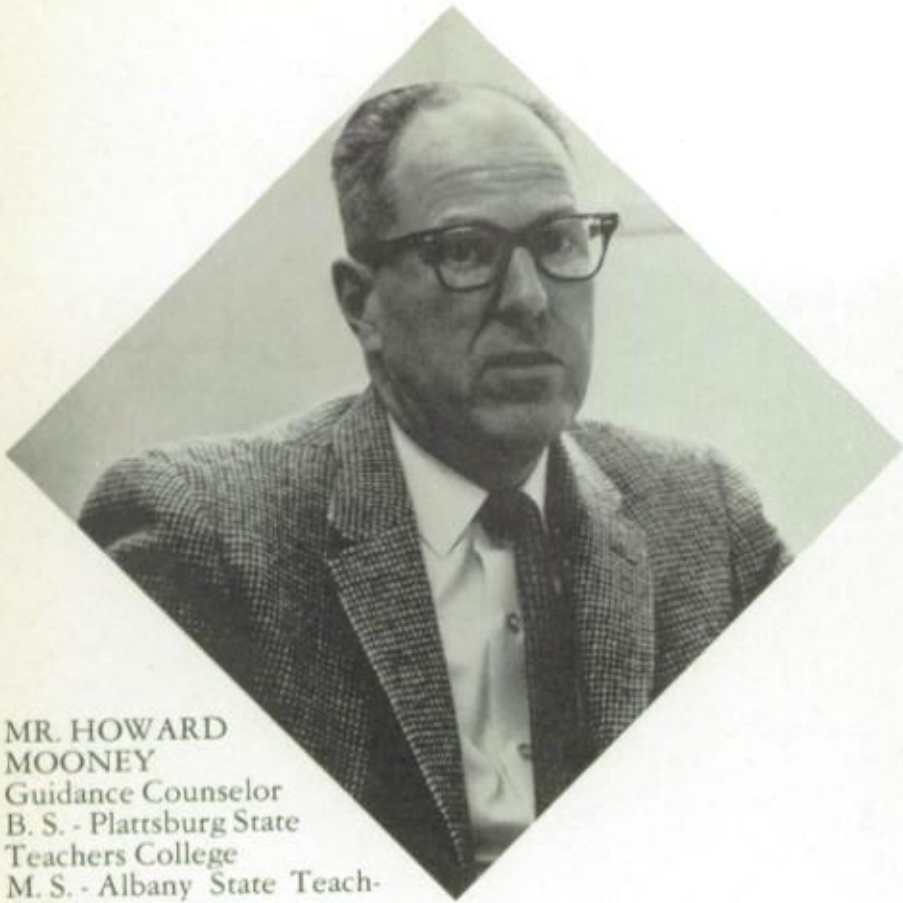

FACULTY

Although our faculty staff was newly formed, many of the individual relationships with the students will always be remembered. In dedication to their responsibilities, our teachers gave seemingly endless homework assignments "surprise" quizzes, and even chaperoned our dances.

They also shared with us their experiences and wisdom of the adult life, thereby, giving us guidance. But most of all, always acting in our best interests, they were our friends.

There has always been a distinction in being a Senior. Seniority has meant added responsibility, privileges, and the undying admiration of underclassmen. Yet, the 1964 Senior Class of the West High School feels especially distinctive and justly proud, for they are the first class to graduate. May they reflect on their first and last year at West High with fondness, and carry with them always the true Viking spirit.

CURRIC

No matter how beautiful the buildings nor how modern the facilities, unless a school has a well-rounded, highly developed curriculum, its modernity and beauty is of no consequence. We at West High take pride in the fact that the curriculum offered here in all subject areas is of the highest caliber, designed to meet the needs of all students and the challenge of the space age.

CURRICULUM

American history students confer on a question of importance.

"What is the name of this country?" asks Mr. Regan of his world history students.

English and History Make Students Better Citizens

English II students have panel discussion.

Mrs. McOmber.

A knowledge of both English and history is essential in today's modern world. With the new facilities at West High the English and History Departments have been expanded. English Study Skills and International Relations are the new courses being offered this year.

Claudia Beckhorn, Anita McIntosh and Janice Dundas seem to be preparing potatoes.

Seniors prepare to do some baking. Oh what fun!

Help Yourself to a Healthier and Happier Future

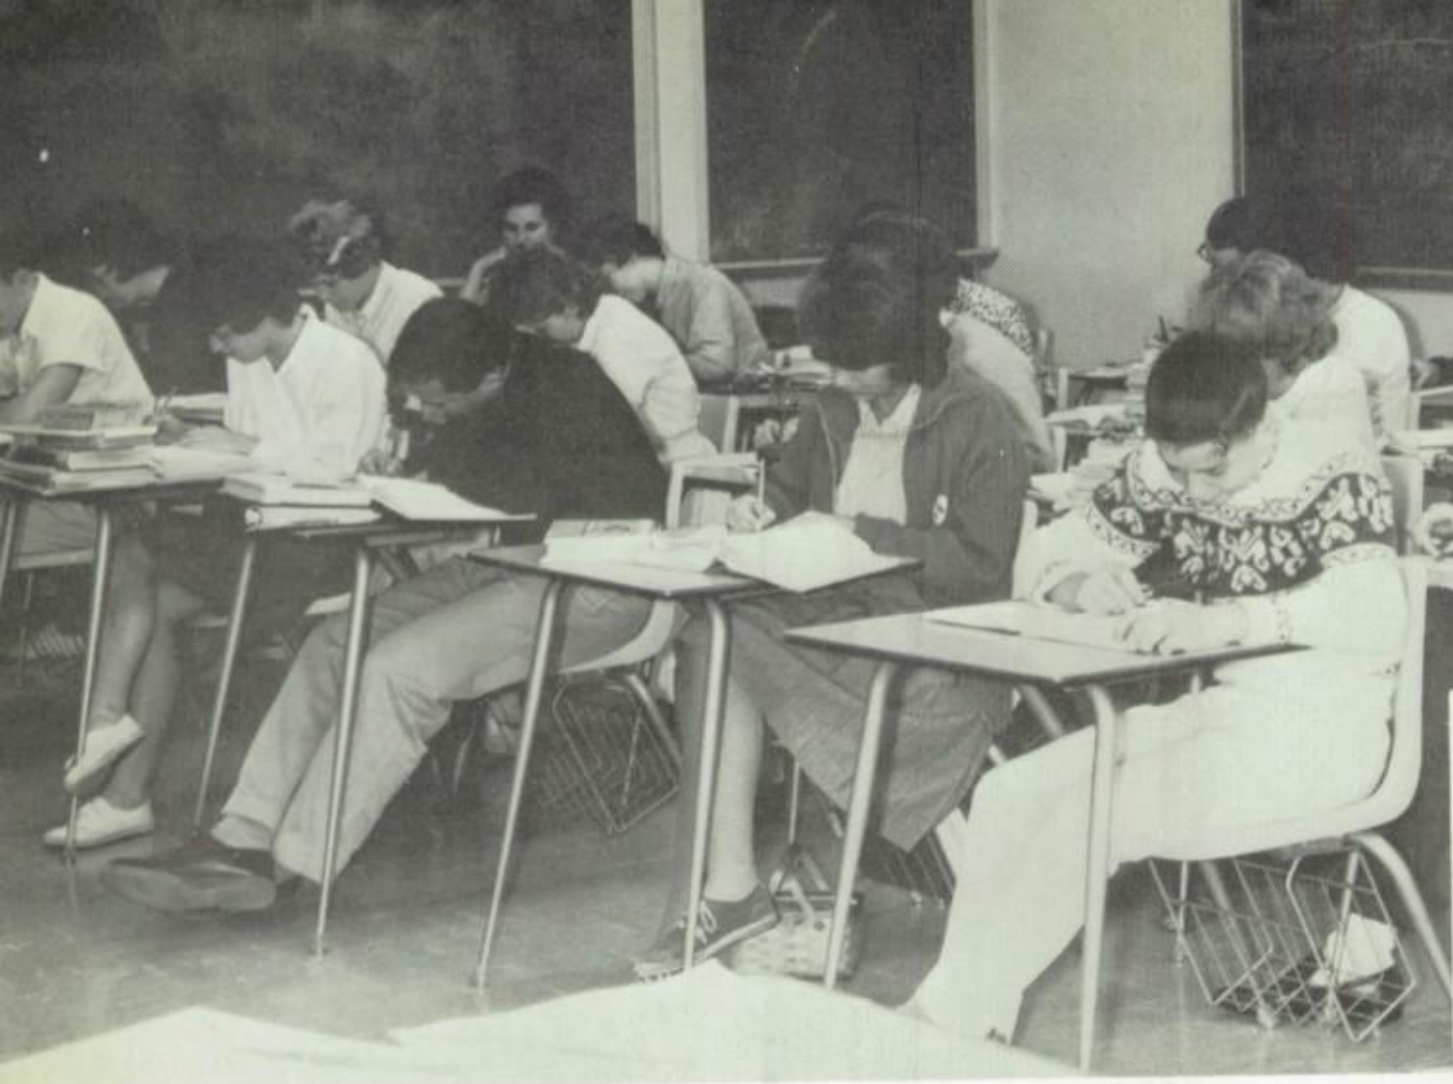

Everyone wants to lead a happy and healthy life. Three courses which prepare students for such a life are gym, home economics and health. West High's new and modern facilities add to the effectiveness of these courses.

Two girls practice tumbling routine.

Health students study the structure of the human body from this skeleton.

Math 10 students work out a complicated problem.

$a^2 + b^2 = c^2$ is a formula known by all math students. West High offers a great variety of math courses such as algebra, geometry, Math II advanced algebra, solid geometry and calculus.

$(\text{NH}_4)_2\text{SO}_4 + \text{BaCl}_2 \rightarrow \text{BaSO}_4 + 2\text{NH}_4\text{Cl}$, $E=mc^2$ —sound hard? Well science majors face such problems everyday. West High offers advanced placement biology and chemistry for the advanced students.

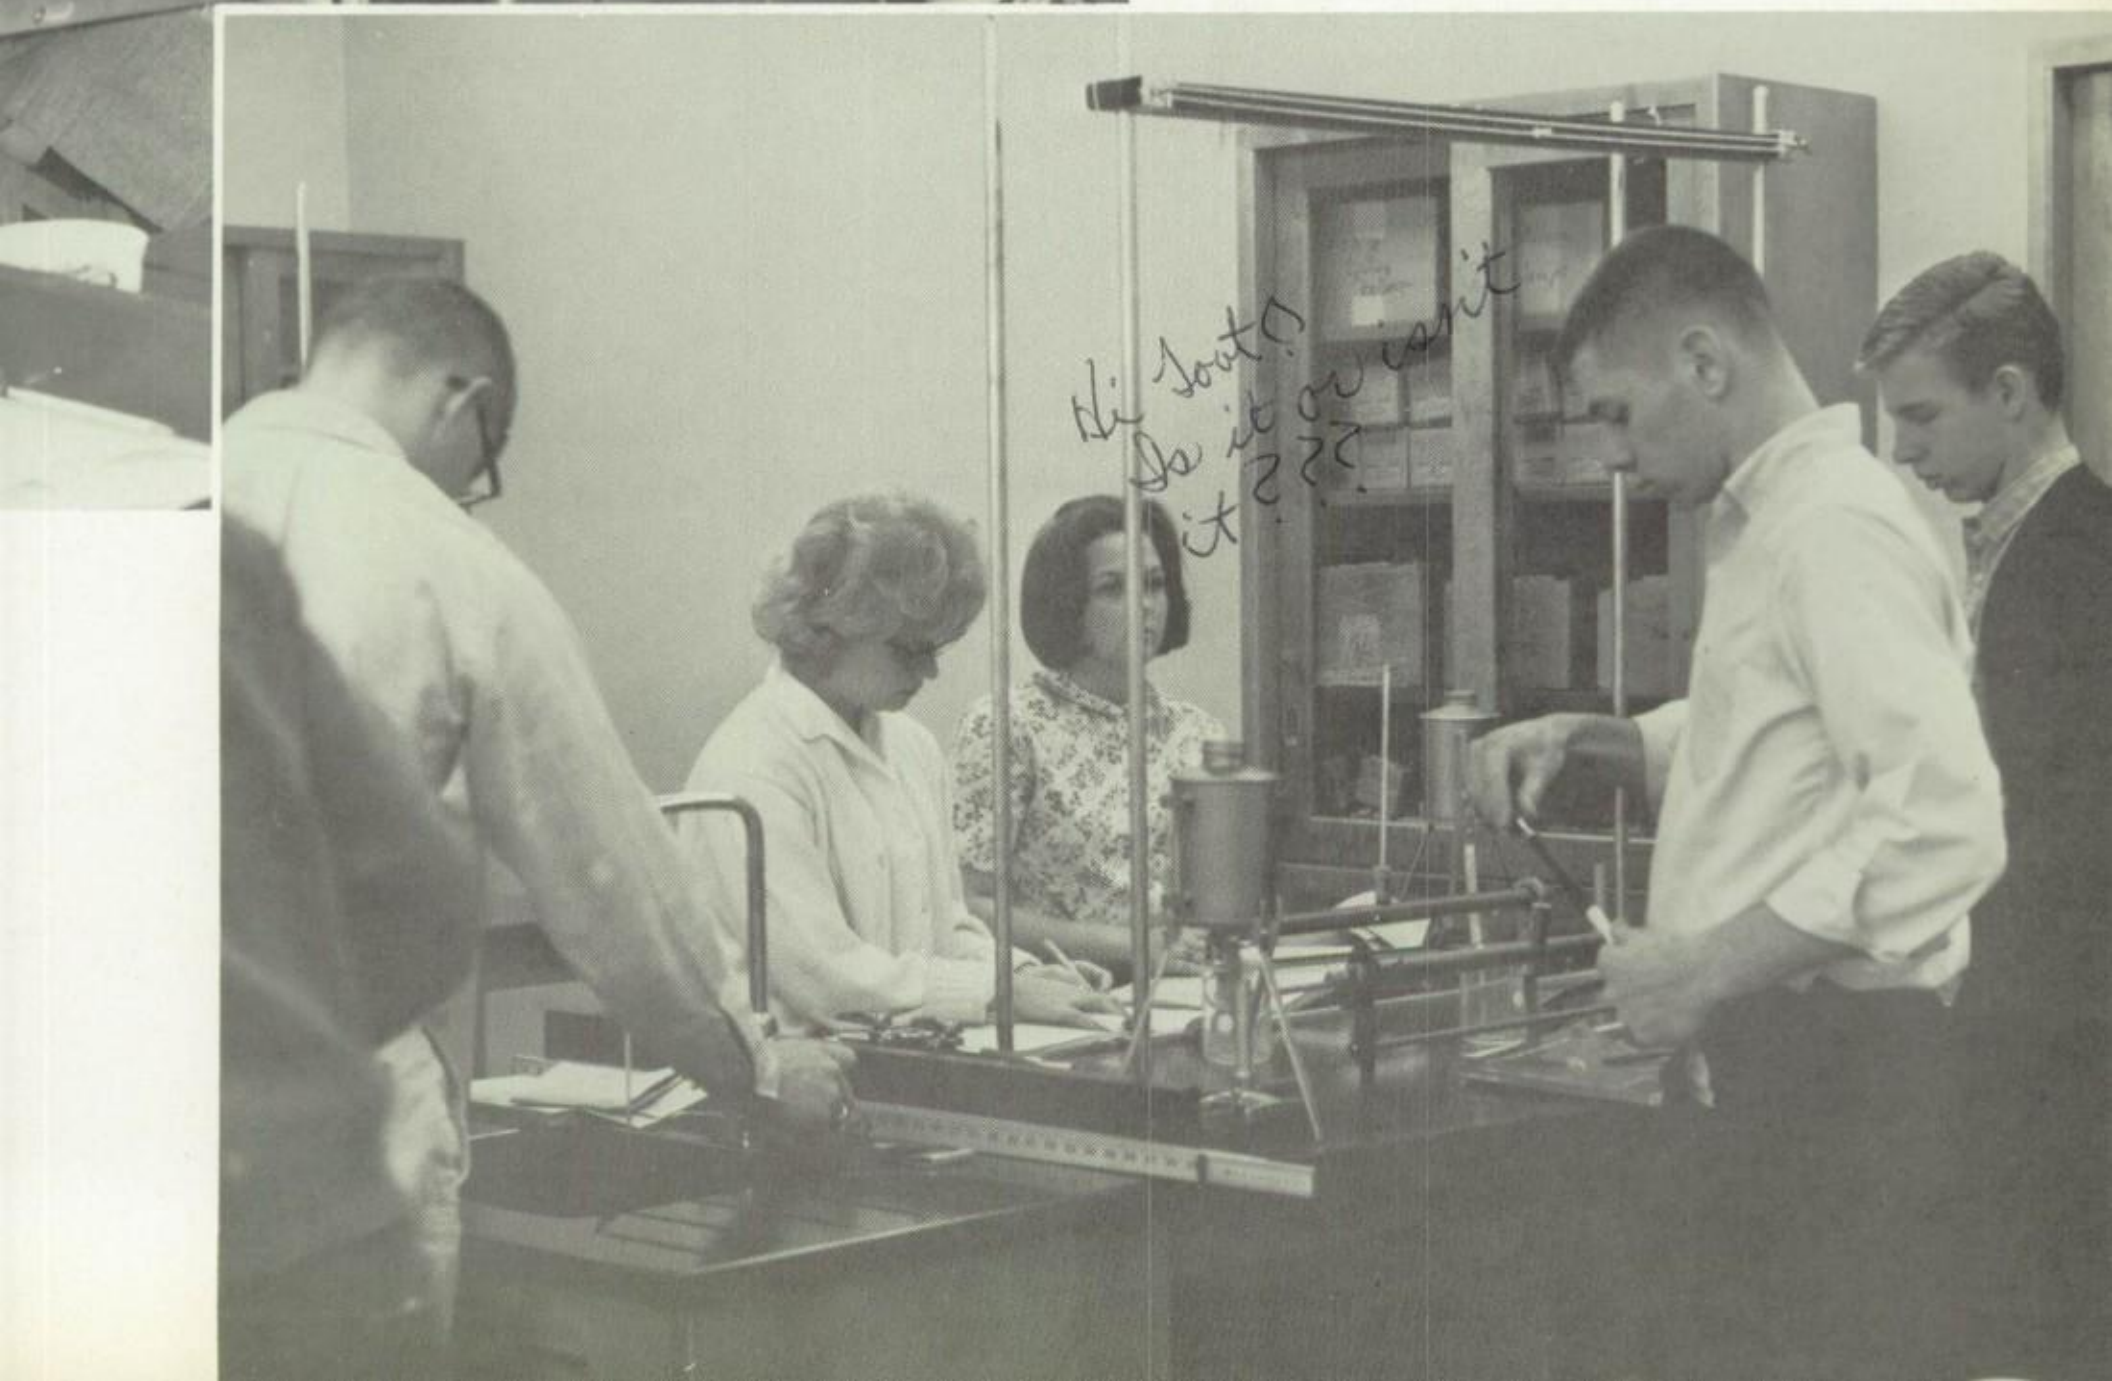

Students work industriously in Biology Lab.

Math and Sciene Prepare Students for the "Space Age"

Students tangle with weighty physics problem.

Boys in wood shop work on special projects.

Joe Kane and Bob Teachman test equipment in electric shop.

These Courses Interests

Students practice welding in Farm Mechanics.

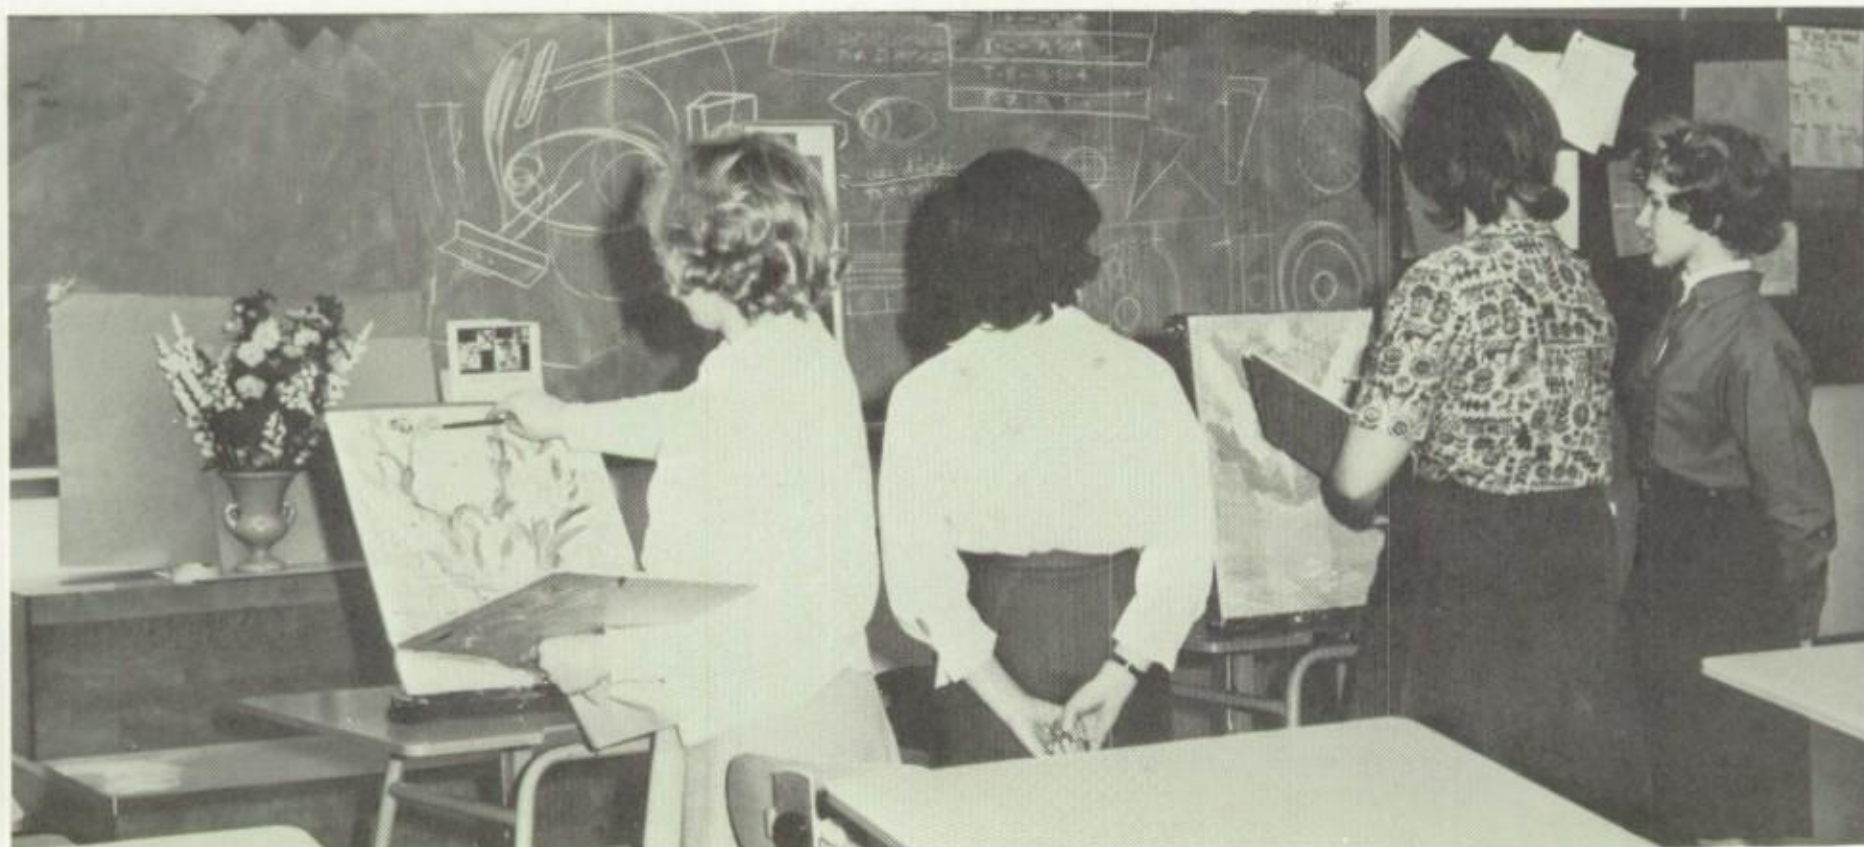

Band students follow Mr. Homan's lively directions.

Pertain to Students' Special

If a student's special interest is in Art, he may enroll in mechanical drawing, painting, or crafts. The music lover might sign up for orchestra, band, or chorus. For the student with an interest in technical courses, West High offers electric, wood and metal shops. Students who would like to know the right way to drive might be interested in Driver Education. Farm Mechanics and Agriculture are offered to all students interested in farming.

Driver training students at preliminary briefing from Mr. Sommers before emerging on the highway.

All students make use of our beautiful library.

W.H.S. Offers a Varied Language Program

The language department this year has been enlarged from those of the former schools. Mrs. Kresge and Mrs. Smith instruct French classes. Latin is taught by Miss Studely and Miss Janus. Miss Janus also teaches a course new to this school system — Russian.

The expanded lab facilities offer students of French, Russian and Speech a chance to improve their linguistic abilities. These facilities give pupils an opportunity to advance as far as their ambition will carry them.

French students are working hard in French Lab.

Business Develops Efficiency

In business classes students learn the basic essentials of office work. Skill and accuracy are stressed in the business courses at West High. At the new high school, students are offered retailing and have an opportunity to arrange a display window. Typing II, bookkeeping II, two other new courses at West High, help students get the training they need for a job in the field of commerce.

Students try their hands at typing.

One of the most formidable tasks facing the staff and student body this year was the forming of clubs and organizations to replace the time honored and long cherished ones of Northside, Corning Free Academy and Painted Post High School. Again, the fine Viking spirit of co-operation that has been the hallmark of West High this year, saw the establishment of a number of organizations which adequately serve the students' extra - curricular needs.

Council

The purpose of the Student Council is to promote better student conduct in the areas of character, behavior, courtesy, safety, scholarship and sportsmanship as defined in the school code of ethics.

To be a member of the Student Council, a person must be a member of the Student Association and maintain at least a "C" average.

A constitution committee formed by members of the council devised a constitution which the students at West High may follow. The Student Council has sponsored many dances after basketball games and on weekends throughout the year. Several council members served as "student guides" at the successful open house held on November 17, 1963.

The Council is the main source of social function of the school. They are responsible for all dances held, but may delegate the privilege to other organizations.

Tense with eager anticipation, students await the selection of honor society members at the bi-annual induction ceremony. As Daniel Smith, West High's only previous member, reads the honored pupils' names, they, walk to the stage. After receiving their membership cards and pins, the new members sit to hear a speech on the four cardinal principles each inductee must possess: character, scholarship, leadership and service. They realize the full extent of the honor and the resulting responsibility of the high standards they must continue to uphold. Juniors as well as seniors attain recognition at the spring induction.

Society members, their parents and teachers assemble at the induction tea.

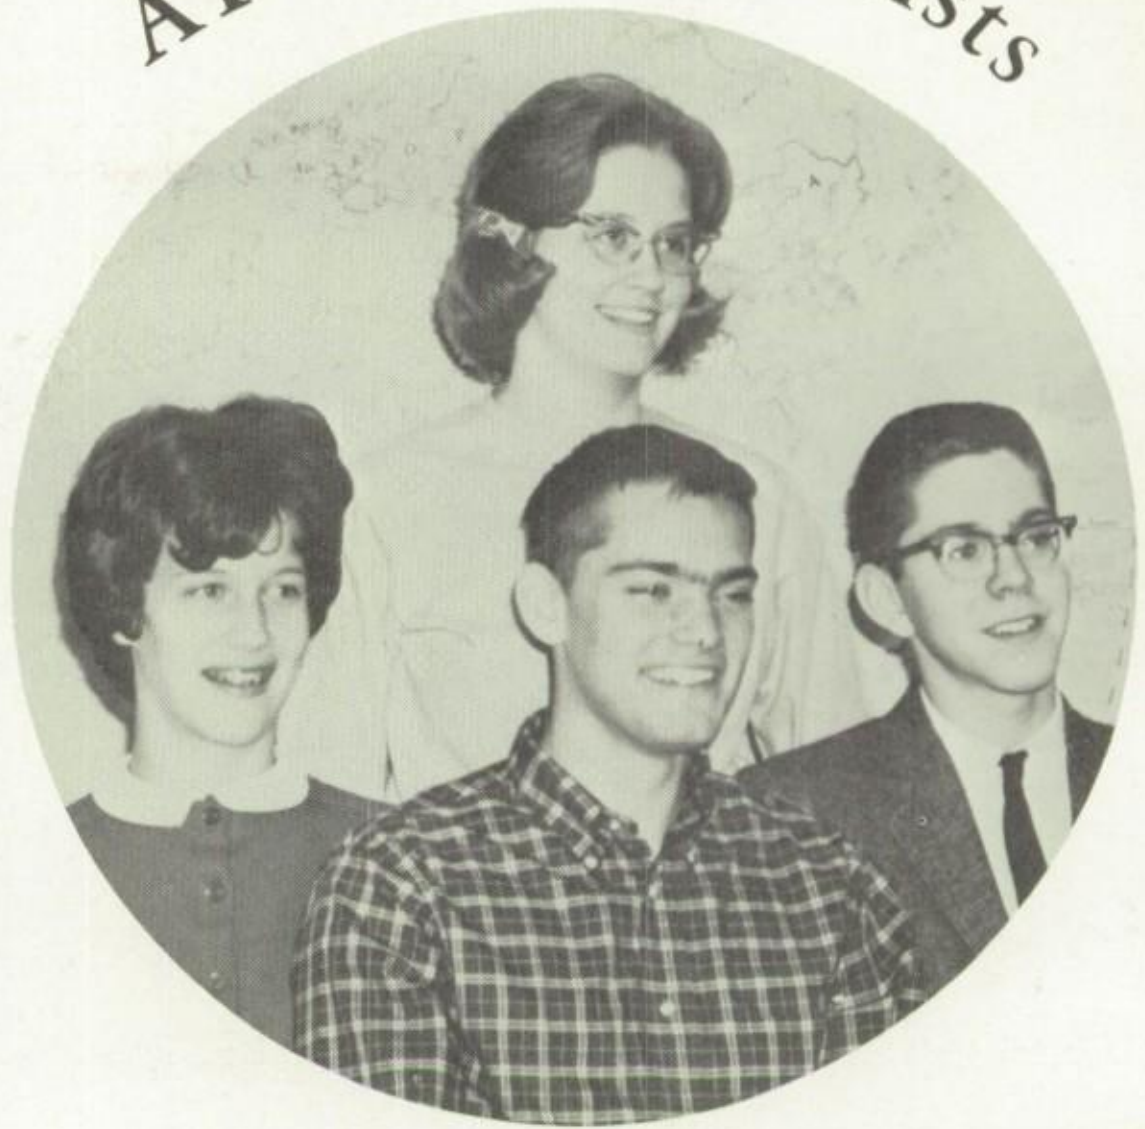

Lorraine Rouse and Richard Sprow are West High's semi-finalists for the summer program of the American Field Service. This means that if chosen, they may go to any of twenty-five countries in Europe, South America and parts of Africa or Asia. They would stay for six weeks and return by September to finish high school here in the States.

Anne Patterson and William Weaver are our two semi-finalists for the winter program. If chosen they may stay in one of nineteen countries in Europe, South America or parts of Asia for one school year. They would not be able to graduate with their American high school class—a fact which, unfortunately, discourages many from this particular program.

This entire program does not entail a luxury tour of foreign countries, but rather an educational stay and a good will trip for the United States which includes much lecturing and learning. It does not end on return to the United States either, for AFS students must relate their experiences to the people here.

The American Field Service opens the door to teenagers the world over so that they may become better citizens of tomorrow and obtain a better understanding of world cultures and relations.

Ernie is spending a school term at West High under the AFS program. He hails from Bacolad City, Negros Occidental, Philippines and is now staying with the H. William Weaver family.

A fine representative of his country, Ernie has won many honors and has endeared himself to many at West High.

Though sorry to see him leave, we realize the knowledge and further worked understanding we have gained from knowing him, and hope that he has acquired some such understanding of us.

David Youngstrum

Dave left the United States last June 12 to travel to Japan, Land of the Fishing Sun. As an AFS participant, he spent his summer with the Tanaka family in Nishi Nomiya.

He found it amazing that you can learn so much about another society and even your own by looking at things from their point of view. Living with a family, treating them as your own, shows you that people are basically the same everywhere.

On August 31, Dave left Japan with a will to return. He has helped the Japanese people to better understand Americans, and here he is enabling us to have an insight into their culture.

Future Teachers of America

The Whitcomb-Hill Chapter of the Future Teachers of America meets twice a month to discuss the various aspects of teaching. They visited Elmira College in the spring.

The forming of the first West High chapter of FTA was rather difficult because it consisted of combining the three chapters from Painted Post, Corning Free Academy and Northside schools. Because of this an arrangement of electing a president from each of the former schools was adopted.

The activities of the club include guest speakers, films on teaching, and field trips.

Future Homemakers of America

The main objective of the FHA is to help individuals improve community, family and personal living. Among its goals are the building of homes for America's future that will be the expression of everything that is good and fair. The FHA tries to show its members that homes that contain truth, love, security and faith can be a reality—not just a dream.

To qualify for this organization a girl must have had or be taking some homemaking course in school. She must also be a good citizen in her school and community.

This year the FHA had their initiation program in the fall accompanied by a dinner. There were also a fashion show and several demonstrations on various topics later in the year.

Future Farmers of America

Our FFA is very proud to be one of the largest chapters in the State and to have James Cady holding the office of County Reporter.

This year the active group sent bulletins and magazines to South America. They also held their annual Parent and Son Banquet.

To qualify for this organization a student must be actively enrolled* in vocational agriculture at school.

The main purposes of the FFA are to develop character, train for useful citizenship and foster patriotism among its members. It also tries to develop competent, aggressive, rural and agricultural leadership. This organization encourages its members to participate in worthy undertakings for the improvement of agriculture. It also tries to create and nurture a love of country life.

The Library Council performs a valuable service to both the library and the school. Members assist the librarian in preparing new books for circulation, doing routine desk work, shelving books, and doing many other types of library work.

Members selected during the second semester are: Kathy Gauss, Annette Hassen, Carol Fenderson, Anne Lyon, Gayle Gray, Karol Luke, Mary Stratton, Elizabeth Thompson, Debbie Gleason, Debby Wheeler, Josephine Fisher, Kathy Reilly, Mary Linda Riesbeck, Linda Bennett, Anne Benjamin, Marcia Allen.

This year's activities include a Christmas party, a social event with East High and a June picnic.

VIKING

Inquisitive news-gatherers, hair-tearing editors, and a driving business staff, when combined, make for a successful newspaper.

The Viking keeps students, teachers, and parents in touch with school news, giving recognition to scholarship winners, outstanding seniors, teachers, outstanding athletes, as well as clubs and teams.

Subscribers will remember Davette's "Viking Views", Anita's editorials, Ernie's senior articles, Carolyn's calendars, and the staff's "attempt" at cross-word puzzles.

The staff will never forget those Friday night lay-out sessions before the final deadline. Without Mr. Mishrell's headline suggestions the paper would never have gone to press.

The Skjold

615 is perhaps the busiest room at West High. Skjold editors rush to lay out pages, prepare copy and proof read as all must be completed in time for the publication of the yearbook. Ability to write and to create, along with cooperation and a sense of responsibility is essential to a staff editor.

Miss McAnarney and Mrs. Dewey advise the staff in matters of style and lay-out. Many thanks are also due Dan Smith, who "snapped" the majority of the pictures seen in this yearbook.

Regular meetings are held every Thursday, but necessity sometimes requires daily get-togethers.

Radio and Announcers Club

Front: Karen Luke, news editor; Gary Palmer, general announcer; Davette Leibson, news editor. Standing: Miss Evelyn McLean, advisor; Karrin Bayer, secretary.

The Radio Club of West High handles the weekly West Side portion of "East Side-West Side" on WCLI and the monthly Teen's and Tunes on WCBA which takes a lot of time and effort. These radio programs consist of teacher interviews, student opinions, and the highlight "Stuff and Things," the weekly school gossip.

The Announcers' Club, on the other hand, is in charge of making daily announcements on the school PA System. This service not only gives valuable assistance to the office staff, but affords the student a marvelous opportunity to speak publicly.

Ham Radio Club

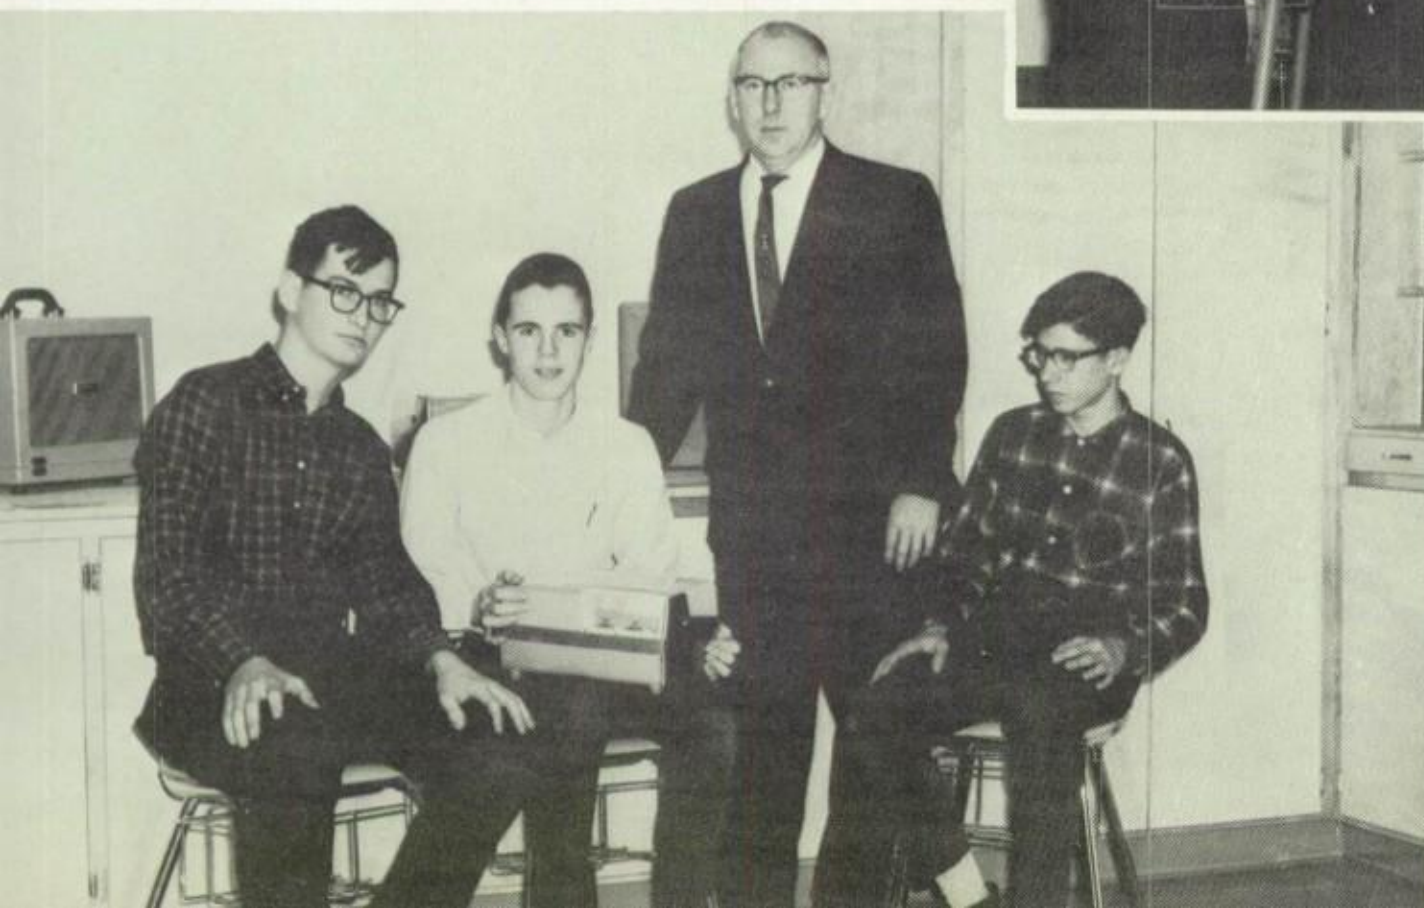

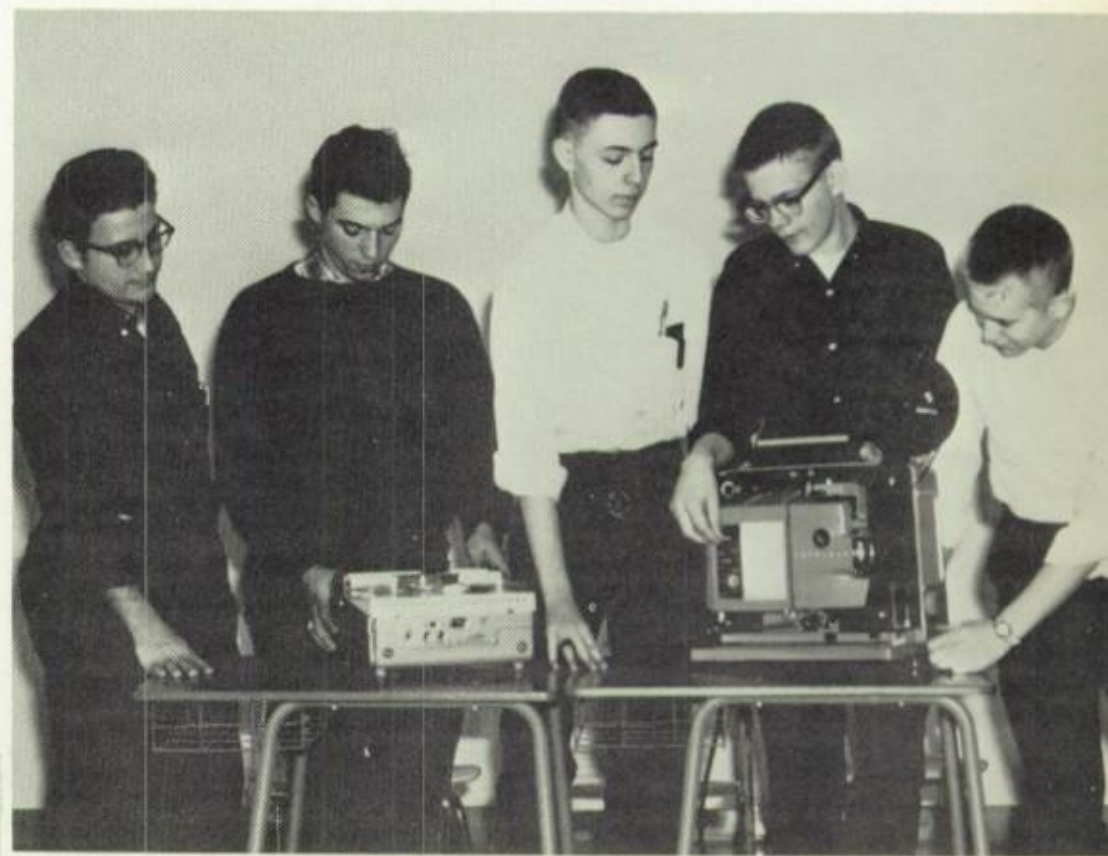

Roland Van Etten, William English, Joab Kunin, President, Richard Griest, Mr. Bernard Zawrotny.

The Amateur Radio Club was formed to instill interest and skill in beginning radio mechanics. With the guidance of their advisor, Mr. Bernard Zawrotny, they not only conduct lessons on theory and code practice, but give information about licenses to anyone who wishes it. With zealous interest they have built and repaired much of their own equipment. Many intend to follow up this study in years to come, not only in college, in training school, but at home as well.

Robert Haskins, Fred Groat, Cleon Lewis, Ronald Elliott, Jim Lewis.

Audio-Visual Club

David Garland, President; Dick Griest, Mr. Elwood Sommers, David De Mayo.

The Audio-Visual Club provides a necessary and useful service to all departments. Mr. Sommers and his boys arrange for projection equipment and films to be available at all times, and through their efforts, the equipment is maintained.

Commercial Club

The clicking of typewriters and whirling of machinery lets one know immediately that members of the Commercial Club are busy at work giving secretarial aid to some teacher or organization.

The main purpose of the club is to help teachers and school organizations by typing and duplicating material. This also enables the members to receive valuable practice and experience in business work which the office worker must know.

Secretarial Club

Membership in the Secretarial Club offers an excellent opportunity for obtaining business practice. Proper office attitudes and grooming are also studied.

This practical knowledge is supplemented with field trips, guest speakers and a Christmas party at Miss Burritt's. The requirement for club admission is good standing in the secretarial office practice class.

Money they raise by selling candy is used to provide pins and a June banquet.

Girls Varsity W Club

On entering the gymnasium during the eighth period, one might expect to see a group of awkward-looking females swinging badminton rackets, dribbling around the court, making foul shots, or just resting on the floor. These are the girls in the Varsity W Club. This group is comprised of girls from the three former high schools who are interested in sports and find that regular gym classes do not provide enough activity.

The girls play teams from other schools and participate in a wide variety of intramurals such as soccer, speed-away, volleyball, basketball, softball, ping pong, badminton, tennis, track, horseshoes, and exercising with apparatus.

This club was organized to promote good sportsmanship throughout the school, to establish and protect tradition and serve the school by running the concession stand and ushering at sports events.

Miss Carol Brownrigg, advisor; Suzanne Cole, vice-president; Kay Huff, secretary-treasurer; Sandra Havert, president.

Boys Varsity W Club

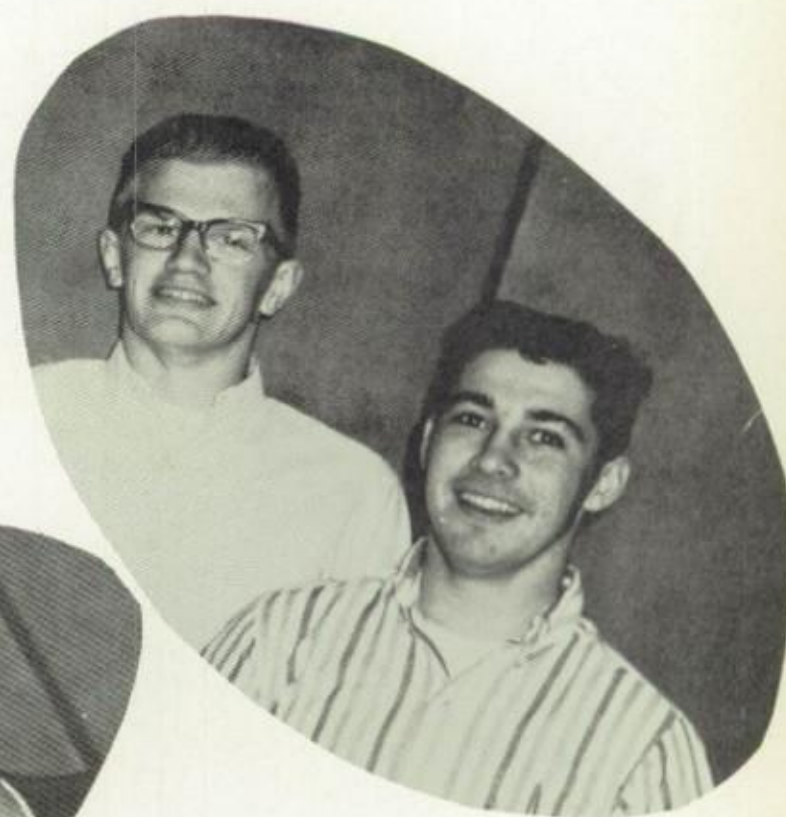

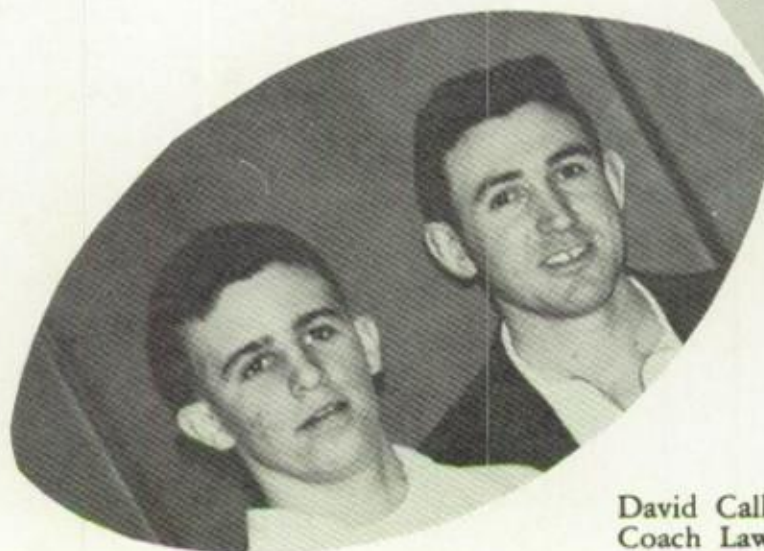

All boys who have earned a varsity letter are eligible for Boys' Varsity W Club membership.

This year's club's main purposes are to draw up a constitution for the organization to follow in future years and to initiate useful services which the club can perform for West High.

The club also engages in sports meets with varsity clubs of other schools.

Strenuous rehearsals and weeks of diligent preparation by the senior class paid off handsomely with the production of "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay". Under the direction of Miss Evelyn McLean, Davette Leibson and Sherry Marmor traveled to Paris as two very excited nineteen year olds, in the hilarious comedy based on Cornelia Otis Skinner's and Emily Kimbrough's Book of the same title.

The play opens with Cornelia getting a last briefing on shipboard from her mother, and everything imaginable proceeds to happen on board ship and in Paris. Emily hits a drowning man with a deck chair and jumps to the conclusion that she has killed him. Disaster strikes when Cornelia sleeps in the ancient bed of Cardinal Richelieu and breaks out with the hives for her date that same day. Throughout the play, both girls are shackled by two old-fashioned "safety pockets" their "old-fashioned" mothers insist they wear.

Despite a few disillusioning incidents, the undaunted travelers spend an unforgettable summer abroad which proves that "their hearts were young and gay".

Child, draw closer.

Chess Club

The purpose of this club is to provide knowledge of good chess playing and sportsman-like competition for both boys and girls of West High.

The only prerequisite for membership is that a "B" average be maintained by each aspirant.

An education program is sponsored by the club members on the techniques of chess.

The special responsibilities of the officers are to maintain the exclusive membership and to arrange chess schedules within the school and between other schools.

G Clefs

These ensembles are planned to promote teamwork and independence in musical skill. They challenge individual musical abilities and enable members to devote more time to singing the wealth of choral literature than would be possible in a larger chorus.

The "G Clefs" is an all girl double trio composed of juniors, and the "Vichords" is a sophomore girl double trio. The "Occidentals," named for the "Occident" or Western World, is a mixed chorus ensemble consisting of six boys and six girls.

Besides performing at the spring concert, the "Vichords" sang for the Christmas program and the "Occidentals" vocalized at the first National Honor Society induction, Rotary Club, and a fund raising for the Heart Association.

Vichords

Row 1: Patricia Reilly, Beverly Sawyer. Row 2: Nancy Hamel, Annette Hassen, Louise Elder, Elaine Rude.

Occidentals

The Mixed Chorus, under the direction of Mr. James Hudson, meets twice weekly during the Activity Period.

They have sung several times in assemblies before the student body. During the Christmas season, they presented a concert for the public, and sang at the Baron Steuben Hotel. They also performed in the spring.

What would a football game be without band for the halftime show? That's an easy question to answer. Not much!! And who would want to miss a chance to hear one as good as our own Viking Marching Band?

This group, under the direction of Mr. Robert Homan, provided many fine half-time performances during the football season and a Spring Concert in May that was really great. The Band members are all eager, enthusiastic and quite devoted to their organization, which always shows up in their performance. Who can forget that "Certain" football game when the band did such a fine job? (Who was the guy that played "Charge" all night till his eyeballs were red?)

Yes, the band is quite an outfit and has really added much to our year at West.

Majorette

Who said that it couldn't be done? The West High majorette squad has assembled girls from Northside, Academy, and Painted Post, and it has been successful. Though difficult to get everyone organized at first, as the squad progressed it benefited by using routines and dances from all three schools.

An outstanding exhibition was presented at the first East-West football game where umbrellas, scarves, and fire were used. Other added attractions during our high-steppers performances were the Cha-Cha and double-person routines. The majorettes were also active in the Spring Concert and the Memorial Day parade.

The element of "oneness" in this comparatively small size squad, proved to be too much for our opponents. It was the desire to win, the leadership, teamwork, and excellent coaching which contributed to our successful season. "EAST-WEST Game was our finest game", comments Mr. "W". "We made the fewest mistakes while both our offense and defense clicked with spirit". A great deal of credit must go to our coaching staff, which is composed of Ernie Mengoni, Arnie Northrop, Elwood Sommers, Bill Ferris and head coach Larry Warshwsky, for the job they did in combining three schools into one. Mr. "W" a new-comer to this area had a previous record of 32 wins 6 losses and 2 ties during a five year period. The one thing he especially likes to do is win which he proved in the final 7-6 encounter.

Our Viking runners were on the run this year as they paced to a remarkable six wins and no losses. Coach Irving Snyder who deserves the most credit for the fantastic team which turned out, had a chore to combine three schools into one successful team. It was determination, ambition and hard work combined with excellent coaching that made us A.A.A. champs and class B champs at Alfred Almond. This cross country team has set a precedent for the quality of work which W.H.S. will be noted for. Although a team effort all the way, it was the first and second by Don and Victor Brown that sparkled through the year.

"VIC" comes in second.

Much can be said about our "Baby Vikings", even though they seemed to be completely jinxed during the whole season. Only through experience can these boys weld themselves into a "team"—and they're on the way—whether they win or not! We can all remember that great victory over Hammondsport, the end of a long losing streak . . . and we all hope that next year the J.V.'S will demolish all their foes.

We don't have to tell anyone that Coach McGill's first Viking basketball team was tops — everyone already knows!

How can we forget the thrills and excitements (and some disappointment) of the past season. Remember???? that first victory over Penn Yan . . . then two discouraging one point losses . . . a great victory at Horseheads . . . heartbreaking defeats at the hands of Notre Dame and Hornell . . . toppling Wellsville . . . and then, in the upset of the year, a tremendous win over the highly touted Trojans of East . . . 56-54.

And at press time—we find ourselves eagerly prepared for the next East-West game, confident of victory, and pleased with the outcome of a great season of Viking basketball.

Eleven wins, no losses, and one tie—that's quite a record our J.V. matmen set—and one that will be remembered for quite a long time. Working together as a unit really paid off as they fought to a 10-10 draw in their first match with Mansfield, and then reeled off 11 straight victories, including a SHUTOUT against Hornell 30-0, and a 26-17 walloping of East's J.V.'s.

It was a great year for West's J.V. matmen and we all hope that next year will bring another undefeated season.

"Shake that arm!" "Go for the half!" Now you've got em!" — Most of these phrases are easy to recognize—for they're coming from the gym where everyone is hollering—and only one thing can be happening—the Viking varsity wrestlers are on the move.

These grapplers, expertly coached by George Scala (and Mr. Colacino) have compiled a fine record for their first year. Led by Gene Fuller and Chuck Reynolds, West's two outstanding wrestlers, the varsity matmen rolled to 5 victories and a tie while suffering 6 losses.

We're all proud of our Green and White wrestlers and hope that next year will prove just as profitable.

Spirit ran high especially for East - West game.

Coach Warshawsky keeps his eyes on a noisy gym class (while reflecting upon the outcome of the East-West football game).

Which speedy Ed Hanshaw coolly intercepts...

Moving the ball to the 1 yard line, where the Vikings call an important play... And a second later.....

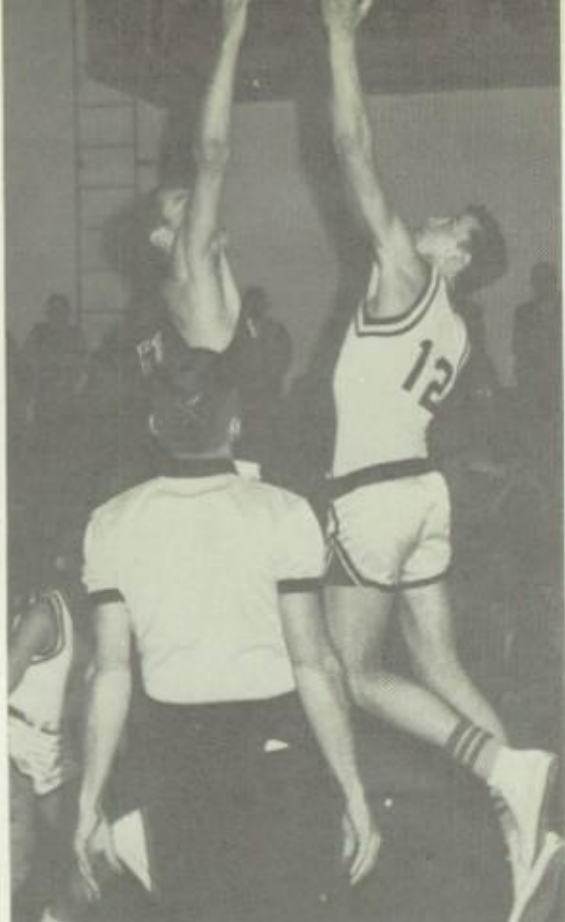

True to form, the Green Tide stops a charging opponent... forcing a forward pass...

An anxious crowd awaits the game.

THE FUTURE IS YOURS

You are about to embark on the most important part of your life. For some of you, the next few years will mean college, more study and choice of a career. For others, you will now begin to be “on your own” for the first time.

You are faced with a challenge: the future is what you will make it. As someone once said, “If you do not think about the future, you cannot have one.”

Corning Glass Works salutes you upon your graduation. The future is yours.

CONGRATULATIONS ...

on the beginning of a fine
NEW TRADITION

We're proud of our new schools. They represent the realization of a dream . . . providing our young men and women with the most modern of teaching facilities, giving them a better basis than ever before possible for their future endeavors.

BEST WISHES ...

As members of Corning West High Schools' first graduating class, you will forever occupy a place of honor in its history. As you embark upon your chosen careers, you carry with you an honor, a responsibility, and our most sincere good wishes.

"THE TORCH HAS BEEN PASSED . . ."

John Fitzgerald Kennedy, 34th President of the United States

And the members of your generation have received it. No longer will you play the ascribed role of high school student—"The Torch Has Been Passed . . ." and you now must demonstrate your capabilities of carrying it through new roles—roles that must be earned or achieved by your individual performance in life. No matter what your choice for the future, we at Ingersoll-Rand wish you the greatest measure of success in your endeavor. As the Olympic athletes of centuries ago passed the torch of light on to their predecessors, the world awaits and depends on you to carry the torch.
